

AVP, Executive Director, Oncology Services Georgetown University Hospital

Georgetown University Hospital, a 609-bed facility and teaching institute affiliated with Georgetown University Medical School, is seeking an AVP, Executive Director, Oncology Services.

The AVP and Executive Director, Oncology Services will lead, direct and manage the clinical oncology service line for Lombardi Comprehensive Cancer Center (LCCC) at Georgetown University Hospital (GUH) and will serve as the primary executive between GUH, LCCC and MedStar Health. This person will provide leadership, direction and operational management to the LCCC clinical services in accordance with the mission, policies and philosophy of GUH. The Executive Director, Oncology Services will ensure accountability to operational, strategic and financial objectives of the oncology service line and services with clearly defined timeframes and accountabilities. Working closely with the executive team of Georgetown University Hospital, medical faculty and associated voluntary medical staff, the Executive Director will identify programs, services and associated competencies required to build and expand oncology programs and services of Georgetown University Hospital and Lombardi Comprehensive Cancer Center.

Requirements for the role include an MHA, MBA or MS in health care administration, public health administration or a related field. Five or more years leadership experience in an NCI designated cancer center experience is required. Experience with an NCI-designated oncology program is highly preferred. ID#133690SF.

Interested and qualified candidates should contact:

Deedra Hartung,

Executive Vice President, Managing Principal

Cejka Search

4 City Place, Ste. 300

St. Louis, MO 63141

Phone: 800-209-8143

Email: dhartung@cejkasearch.com